

Search

NEWS

VIDEO

PODCASTS

---

- Home
- News

Lawsuit claims developer duped 19 NHL players out of $25 million

Author:

The Canadian Press

Publish date:

Jun 19, 2009

-
-
-

NEW YORK - A golf resort developer duped nearly two dozen NHL players out of US$25 million, blowing the money on gratuitous parties that were attended by former Yankees players Roger Clemens and Reggie Jackson, according to a lawsuit filed Thursday.

The New York Post reported in Friday's edition that 19 former and current NHL players filed suit against Ken Jowdy, alleging they invested the money with the Las Vegas-based golf-course mogul to develop two luxury resorts in Mexico - a project they say is seven years behind schedule.

Instead, according to the players, Jowdy squandered the money on "lavish parties" to impress the likes of Clemens, Jackson and banned hits king Pete Rose, among others, who Jowdy hoped would eventually buy real estate in the planned resorts.

The lawsuit seeks the return of the $25 million they invested and $15 million in damages.

Former New York Rangers and Islanders defenceman Bryan Berard and one-time Islanders captain Michael Peca were hit the hardest, each losing $700,000 in the deal, according to the filing in Los Angeles County Superior Court.

"It's particularly uncomfortable for all," Berard told the Post. "He's taken our money without telling us, and it's supposedly all gone."

Other players involved in the alleged scam include: Chris Simon, who played for both the Rangers and Islanders; former Rangers Greg deVries, Steve Rucchin and Rem Murray; former New Jersey Devil Turner Stevenson; and Sergei Gonchar of the Stanley Cup champion Pittsburgh Penguins.

By

The Canadian Press

-
-
-

THE HOCKEY NEWS MAGAZINE

Not a subscriber? Sign up today to get the best features and analysis from the NHL and beyond. If you're already a subscriber, click on the My Account button to sign into your account to renew your subscription, make a payment, redeem a gift, update your payment method and much more...

SUBSCRIBE NOW

MY ACCOUNT

TOP HEADLINES

News

'It's a Family...

Ryan battled his alcoholism on his own for years. Now, after getting help and working on his sobriety with his family, he's a new man.

- By Matt Larkin
5 hours ago

News

10 Rookies...

Cale Makar and Quinn Hughes were rookie revelations in the regular season, and they lead the freshman power rankings in the post-season, too. But now that they're out, look for others to showcase their talent as first-year wonders.

- By Sam McCaig